VII.-Assessment methods

The general assessment method is continuous as established in the Regulation for the Assessment of Learning Outcomes of Rey Juan Carlos University.

All the assessment systems established in the degree report must be employed, except for those that have a minimum weight of 0%, which can be used by professors in the academic years they consider relevant. Each assessment system may be applied through one or more assessment activities, consistent with the system. No assessment activity can exceed individually 60% of the overall grade for the subject.

The sum of non re-evaluable activities cannot exceed 40% of the overall grade for the subject and, in general, should not have an established minimum grade (except for practical activities in which, strictly speaking, the conditions of the ordinary call cannot be reproduced in the extraordinary call).

Those students who do not manage to pass the subject in the ordinary call, or do not attend this first call, may attend the extraordinary call only for failed re-evaluable assessment activities.

The distribution and characteristics of the assessment activities are described below.

VII.A.-Description and weight of the assessment activities

The general assessment model is continuous assessment, as established in the Regulations for the Assessment of Learning Outcomes of the Rey Juan Carlos University.

All assessment systems established for the subject in the degree report must be used, except for those with a minimum weighting of 0%, which may be used in academic years where the faculty deems it appropriate. Each assessment system may be applied through one or more assessment activities consistent with that system. None of the assessment activities may individually exceed 60% of the overall grade for the subject.

The sum of the non-reassessable assessment activities may not exceed 40% of the overall grade for the subject and, in general, should not have a minimum grade (except in the case of practical activities in which, strictly speaking, the assessment conditions of the ordinary exam cannot be reproduced in the extraordinary session). Students who fail to pass the course in the regular examination session, or who have not taken the exam, may only take the re-assessable assessment activities they failed in the extraordinary examination session.

The distribution and characteristics of the assessment activities are described below.

Continuous Ordinary Assessment:

The distribution and characteristics of the assessment tests are described below. Only in exceptional cases may the instructor incorporate adaptations to the Guide. Such changes will require, after consulting with the Subject Leader, the prior and express authorization of the Degree Coordinator, who will notify the Vice-Rector's Office responsible for Academic Planning of the modification made. In any case, the proposed modifications must comply with the provisions of the verified report. For such changes to be effective, they must be duly communicated to students at the beginning of the academic year through the Virtual Classroom.

Extraordinary assessment:

Students who fail to pass the regular assessment, or who do not attend, will be subject to an extraordinary assessment to verify the acquisition of the competencies established in the guide, only for the reassessable assessment activities.

Important note: In this course, it is mandatory to complete a test, practical exercise, or assessable in-person activity that coincides with the date published and established by the University (for both the regular and extraordinary examination sessions). The date can be found at the following link: <https://gestion2.urjc.es/examenes/>

Evaluation system	Assessment Activity	Weighting	Reassessable in Extraordinary	Minimum Grade	Contents	Date
Written Test	TEST final evaluation (in person)	50%	Yes	5	All of them contents of the subject	Official call
Required Activities (Work)	Individual/group work	20%	Yes	5	The docent will specify the 2 activities to carry out	During the school period
Required Activities (Work)	Individual/group work	30%	No	No minimum (cumulative)	The docent will specify the activities to carry out on virtual campus	During the school period

Calculation of the Overall Grade

The final grade or overall grade is calculated as the weighted average of the grades from the assessment activities, once the minimum grade for the reassessable activities with a minimum grade has been exceeded.

- To pass the course, the overall grade must be 5 or higher (once the minimum grade for the reassessable tests with a minimum grade has been exceeded).
- If no assessable tests have been taken, the final grade will be "Did Not Show Up."

The assessment method for students taking early exams will be the same as the general assessment method.

The evaluation method for early-session students will be the same as the general evaluation method, except for those evaluable and non-reassessable activities (individual/group) that, by their very nature, are not feasible.

COMPULSORY ACTIVITIES

- INDIVIDUAL AND/OR GROUP WORK. The professor will specify the assessable activities, their characteristics, and the assessment percentage for each on the first day of class. Some activities may include: individual and group work, presentations, case study resolution, reading commentary, forum participation, etc. For example: Design of a Family School. Entries must be original and submitted in a timely manner.

Example: Design of a Family School. Submissions must be original and submitted in a timely manner.

- KNOWLEDGE TEST: The professor will specify the characteristics of the content-based test(s) to be administered on the first day of class. These may include: multiple-choice tests, short-answer questions, reflection questions, essay questions, etc. The test will be administered in person according to the official schedule, and passing the test is essential to pass the course. The test can be re-evaluated.

In grading content-based activities and tests, not only the content will be assessed, but also all aspects that contribute to correct written expression, such as formal presentation, structure and organization of ideas and content, correct spelling, punctuation, etc. Ultimately, the student will be assessed to ensure that the written expression corresponds to a university level.

VOLUNTARY ACTIVITIES

- PARTICIPATION IN FORUMS: Forums will be available so students can express their questions, comments, etc., about the course syllabus. This activity is not mandatory.

- FOLLOW-UP AND REINFORCEMENT ACTIVITIES FOR EACH THEMATIC BLOCK: Students will be provided with a suggested set of activities for each thematic block so they can reinforce and apply content. These types of activities will not be assessed.

PLEASE NOTE:

1. PLAGIARISM: University activities and projects must be original. When excerpts from others are used, they must be properly cited. Cases of total or partial plagiarism will be penalized by not assessing the work and not allowing it to be reassessed.

Unauthorized use of artificial intelligence tools such as ChatGPT in any activity will result in a 0.

2. SPELLING: In grading university assignments, projects, and exams, not only the content will be assessed, but also all aspects that contribute to correct written expression, such as formal presentation, the structure and organization of ideas and content, correct spelling, punctuation, etc. Ultimately, the evaluation will ensure that the student's expression is appropriate for a university level. Regarding writing and presentation, the following criteria will be taken into account: 0.2 points will be deducted for each spelling mistake in each test; 0.05 points will be deducted for each accentuation error; and 0.5 points will be deducted for every 10 punctuation errors.

3. DISCIPLINE: Students must comply with the rules regarding punctuality in submitting assignments, discipline, and respectful use of the forums.

Evaluation of students with academic exemption from class attendance

The granting of an Academic Exemption from Class Attendance (AECA) does not automatically exempt students from participating in continuous assessment activities or in-person training activities requiring mandatory attendance as established in the teaching guide. Once the exemption has been granted, students must contact their instructor, who may propose any adaptations they deem appropriate, provided they ensure the acquisition and adequate assessment of the intended learning outcomes. Students must maintain regular communication with their instructor throughout the course so that they can provide information on the dates of these training and assessment activities, if the schedule has not already been established and made available to students at the time of the exemption.

Subject eligible for exemption: Yes

Review and claim of evaluation activities

It will be carried out in accordance with the Regulations for the evaluation of learning outcomes at the Rey Juan Carlos University.

Students with disabilities or special educational needs

In order to guarantee equal opportunities, non-discrimination, universal accessibility, and the greatest possible guarantee of academic success, curricular adaptations for students with disabilities or special educational needs will be determined by the Disability Support Unit, in accordance with the regulations governing the Support Service for Students with Disabilities, approved by the Governing Council of Rey Juan Carlos University. For these adaptations to be implemented, the Unit must issue a curricular adaptation report. Therefore, students with disabilities or special educational needs must contact this service to discuss the different options together.

Academic conduct, integrity and academic honesty

Rey Juan Carlos University is fully committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty, so studying at the URJC implies embracing and subscribing to the values of integrity and academic honesty enshrined in the University's Code of Ethics.

To support this process, the University has the Rey Juan Carlos University's Rules of Conduct and various tools (anti-plagiarism, supervision) that offer a collective guarantee for the full development of these essential values.

VII.B. Assessment of students with academic exemption from class attendance

Having Academic Exemption from Class Attendance (DAAC) does not imply that students are automatically exempt from participating in the continuous assessment activities or in the training activities of compulsory attendance as established in the teaching guide. Once the exemption has been granted, students must contact the subject's teaching staff, who will propose the adaptations he/she may consider relevant, as long as they guarantee the acquisition and adequate assessment of the learning goals established. Students must maintain adequate communication with the teaching staff so that they may provide information on the dates for training and assessment activities, if these are not established in the programme and available for students at the time of achieving the exemption.

Subject with possibility of academic exemption: Yes.

VII.C. Review of assessment activities

In accordance with the Regulation for the Assessment of Learning Outcomes of Rey Juan Carlos University.

VII.D.-Students with a disability or special educational needs

In order to guarantee equal opportunities, non-discrimination, universal accessibility and academic success, students with disabilities or special education needs may request curricular adaptations to follow their studies. These adaptations will be provided by the Unit of Attention to People with Disabilities of Rey Juan Carlos University, in accordance with the regulation which regulates the service for the Attention of People with Disabilities at the University. This Unit will issue a report for curricular adaptations, so that students with disabilities or special education needs must contact the service (at e-mail discapacidad.programa@urjc.es) in order to provide relevant information for different educational alternatives.

VII.E.-Academic behaviour, academic integrity and honesty

Rey Juan Carlos University is fully committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty, so studying at the URJC means assuming and subscribing to the values of integrity and academic honesty set out in the University's Ethical Code. To support this process, the University has Rey Juan Carlos University's Academic Conduct Regulation as well as different tools (anti-plagiarism, supervision...) that offer a collective guarantee for the full development of these essential values.
